

SHERMAN, FILM ACTOR, ADMITS WIFE HAS SUE

Action for Divorce Filed in Rhode Island and Papers
Served There.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Lowell Sherman, film and screen star, now playing in "Lawful Larceny" at the Republic Theater, today confirmed reports from Providence, R. I., that Mrs. Sherman has brought suit for absolute divorce in Rhode Island. Papers in the case were served last week while the actor was in Providence.

"Beyond the bare admission that Mrs. Sherman has sued and papers were served on me last week, I will not discuss the matter," Mr. Sherman said at the theater.

Reports that there were differences in the family have been current since the actor's return from California soon after the Arbuckle case developed. The Rhode Island action, according to Providence dispatches, is not based upon anything which might have happened at the party in a San Francisco hotel after which Virginia Koppie died, but upon another alleged state of facts. There is extreme latitude in the State in divorce actions and anything from constructive cruelty up to a ruling of court similar to that in this State is admissible until the trial of the case.

It is understood the action will not be defended.

70-YEAR-OLD MAN IS SOUGHT AS DOPE PEDDLER

CHICAGO, March 25.—Federal agents today were investigating reports that one of the largest consignments of drugs ever brought to Chicago arrived in the custody of a man seventy years of age, who, it was said, disposed of the drugs to three Chinamen.

Fred Gardner, special agent in charge of the investigation, said a plump valued at $35,000 had been smuggled into Chicago by the man in two trunks with false bottoms. Advice was received from Canadian representatives to watch for the man, Mr. Gardner said, but as the man had arrived and disposed of the drugs before the message was received.

TOMBSTONE JAG PUZZLES

POLICE OF SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 25.—Officers found a sixty-year-old man asleep among many tombstones at the plant of Rodriguez Brothers, stone carvers. In his pocket was a half-filled bottle of denatured alcohol.

Across the street was an undertaking shop. Immediately east of the plant was a hospital. Diagonally across the corner is the tombstone of Ben Milam, in Milam square, the city's first graveyard. Officers were undecided at first which direction to carry the man. Finally they took him to the hospital. He revived sufficiently to pay a $10 fine.

Twelve-year-old Washington boy's phenomenal drawing attracts widespread attention because of his amazing style. Read what Victor Flambeau says of him in The Sunday Times.

MRS. HARDING is receiving a few guests by appointment this afternoon before the informal tea which she is giving for a group of newspaperwomen and magazine writers. Miss Laura Harlan will assist Mrs. Harding in welcoming her guests at tea.

AFTER a two months visit in Washington, Hon. J. Bone, governor of Alaska, and former Washington newspaperman, is preparing for his homeward trip. Governor Bone will leave some time next week for Juneau, by way of Seattle, stopping off en route for a series of transcontinental lecture engagements.

With Governor Bone in Washington is Col. Frederick Meers, U. S. A., the engineer in chief of the Government railroad in Alaska. "Colonel Meers" returned from Washington found himself in a curious predicament. Some one in the Treasury Department discovered that it was against the law for him to continue in the pay of the Treasury Department and maintain his army standing. Apparently, if he is to continue his valuable service in Alaska he must become plain "Mister" Meers and forego his military honors. "Colonel Meers" is an old army man; he was born in the service and has been in it continuously since he was twenty-one, enlisting as a private in 1899. He was with General Goethals in Panama, served during the world war with General Atterbury in France as general manager of our S. O. S. railroad department. Since 1919 he has been chairman of the Alaskan Railroad Commission.

MISS ALICE REQUA, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Requa, of California, who were residents of Washington during the war, has taken up nursing as a career and has entered the Lane Hospital in San Francisco. This news reached Washington in a letter which goes on to describe a party given for Miss Requa and her chum, Miss Mary Julia Crocker, who is also studying to be a nurse, on the night before the two girls entered the hospital.

It was a costume party, all the girls appearing as nurses, some in white and others in blue uniforms, while the men were garbed as doctors or internes. One young man appeared as a surgeon equipped for the operating room even to the rubber gloves. The table was made to look like an operating table, all white with shining instruments; but despite these gruesome details it is on record that the dinner was exceedingly merry.

Alice Requa's father, who is a friend and supporter of the Secretary Hoover, first came to Washington to help with the Food Administration, if I remember correctly; and afterward he became Oil Administrator. The Requas leased Mrs. Henry Requa's studio house in Sheridan circle, which is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walker; and they gave a lot of pleasant parties there during the two years they lived in Washington. The two girls, Alice and Amy, made many friends here and have been missed since they returned to California.

Tonight's Dinner Parties.

To dine is the thing tonight. The social calendar is crowded with interesting little dinner parties at the embassies, private homes, and clubs. The French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand will be hosts in compliment to the Chief Justice and Mrs. William Howard Taft, entertaining a company of twenty-two in their honor.

The Ambassador of Belgium and the Baroness de Chabot are entertaining in compliment to the American Minister to Poland and Mrs. Hugh Gibson. Their guests will number twenty-two.

The Secretary of the Italian Embassy and Mme. Celesia will entertain in compliment to the American Ambassador and Mme. Le Breton. They will have twelve guests.

Among the other dinner hosts will be included the charge d'affaires of the Siamese legation, Yhra Sampa-kitch, Senator and Mrs. Key Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davison, who are giving a dinner at Chevy Chase Club for their daughter, Miss Eleanor Davies; Miss Helen Cannon, who will entertain for her niece, Miss Helen Le Seure; the Assistant Attorney General and Mrs. Rush H. H. and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wardman.

Hughes to Give Dinner.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes will entertain informally at dinner on Monday evening in compliment to the retiring Undersecretary of State and Mrs. Fletcher, who are returning to Washington for the event. They are now in New York and will sail next Saturday on the Olympic for Europe. Mr. Fletcher having been appointed our Ambassador to Belgium.

The Bulgarian Minister and Mme. Panaretoff will entertain at dinner next Saturday evening in compliment to the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes.

The Third Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Wood Bliss will be hosts at a reception this evening given in compliment to the Archeological Society.

Count Constantini, of the Italian embassy, has given up Comdr. and Mrs. Claude B. Mayo's house, 1402 Thirtieth street, which he has been occupying and will be at the Shoreham until he finds a suitable house.

Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, wife of the Director of the Consular Service, is entertaining at tea this afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Freida Hempel, in private life Mrs. William Kahn, who came to Washington to sing at the State Department Club's party last night.

Mrs. Carr will not receive tomorrow afternoon, but will be at home on Sundays, April 2 and April 9, for the last time this season. Mr. and Mrs. Carr will entertain informally at dinner on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lawrence C. Phipps, wife of Senator Phipps of Colorado, has anceled all social engagements on account of serious illness. She is at Walter Reed Hospital, where she is recovering from an operation.

Mrs. George Wharton Pepper, wife of the new Senator from Pennsylvania, went to Philadelphia yesterday and will be joined there today by the Senator. They will return to Washington the first of the week.

Mrs. Franklin Hayden, of 1457 Goodbar avenue, Memphis, Tenn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. Logan Payne, at 26 Quincy street, Chevy Chase.

Owing to illness, Mrs. Stanley Rinehart will not be at home tomorrow afternoon at Wardman Park Hotel.

The Minister of Czechoslovakia, Dr. Stepanek, who left for New York last evening, will return to Washington tomorrow morning.

Gen. and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, who have been at Mrs. MacArthur's Massachusetts avenue home since their honeymoon in Florida, are leaving today for West Point, where they expect to occupy the commandant's quarters until June, when General MacArthur is under orders for the Philippines.

Gen. and Mrs. William Mason Wright have already arrived at Manila, where General Wright has assumed his new duties as commanding officer.

Paul de Hevesy, counselor of the Hungarian legation here, is at the St. Regis, New York city, on his way to Paris to take up his duties as counselor at the legation there.

Mrs. Marguerite Harrison, who has recently returned from Russia and whose book, "Marooned in Russia" is attracting much attention, will speak tonight at the University Club and will lecture at the City Club next Tuesday. Mrs. Harrison is a newspaper woman and a trained observer, so that her views on the Russian situation are of considerable value.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lilley Stock will entertain at a reception this afternoon from 4 o'clock to 6 at their home in Bradley Hills, in compliment to the international president of the Rotary Club, Crawford McCullough, and Mrs. McCullough, of Fort William, Ontario, Canada. Mr. and Mrs. McCullough have come to Washington to attend the conference of the Fifth District Rotary.

The wives of the Washington members of the Rotary Club will entertain at a reception at noon Monday at Wardman Park Hotel in compliment to the Rotary women in Washington. The reception will be followed by a buffet luncheon. Tuesday the same group will be entertained by the same hostesses at a seated luncheon at the New Willard Hotel.

An interesting and educational lecture illustrated by pictures was given by Mrs. Charles Wood at the Congressional Club yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wood took a 5,000-mile trip through South Africa last year, and Mrs. Wood made this journey very real to her audience.

Miss Eudora Clover, who has been making her home in California, has arrived in Washington and is staying at the Grafton.

Mrs. E. Benedict Cobb, who is stopping at the Shoreham, entertained at luncheon yesterday.

Grouches Guests.

The Minister of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes and Mme. Grouche were the honor guests at a small dinner given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Reinisch.

Leader McCormick-Goodhart, of the British embassy, will hold a paper chase at his country place, Langley Park, this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred du Pont, of Wilmington, are staying at the Shoreham.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Reed, of Elkins Park, Pa., while in Washington are stopping at the Shoreham.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes and the Director of the Consular Service and Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr were among the distinguished guests entertained by the State Department Club last evening at Wardman Park Hotel. Secretary Hughes presented Mrs. Freida Hempel, who was the guest of honor and who rendered charmingly an interesting program of songs. She was accompanied by Conrad V. Bos, pianist, and Louis P. Fritz, flutist.

Following the program supper was served, after which there was dancing.

The society circus at Fort Myer on March 21 afternoon and evening performances, is being given to raise money for the Soldiers' Athletic Association. This organization plays a large part in the life of the enlisted men at the post, affording clean sport for their hours of leisure and providing a practical method for their physical betterment.

The Friday afternoon drills, of which the society circus is to be in a measure a burlesque, have for many years been a feature of the season in Washington. They are attended regularly by representative groups from official, diplomatic and residential circles.

Dinners Before Dance.

Most of those who attended the army dance at Rauscher's last evening seem to have been entertained at dinner beforehand. Perhaps the most interesting party was given by Gen. John J. Pershing, whose guests were Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William Carter, Major and Mrs. David G. Shanks, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. John A. Johnston, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Edward J. McClelland, Col. and Mrs. Harrison J. Price, Col. and Mrs. John W. Joyce, Col. and Mrs. John McAuley Palmer, Col. and Mrs.

Morris Ernest Locke, and Col. Duncan K. Major.

Col. and Mrs. F. J. Morrow entertained for Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Herbert M. Lord, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Charles S. Farnsworth, Col. and Mrs. Samuel D. Raskenbach, Col. and Mrs. H. M. Morrow, Col. and Mrs. Julius T. Conrad, Col. and Mrs. Beebe, Miss Jean Schroers, Miss Frances Morrow, Capt. William Johnston, and Lieut. Floyd J. Parker.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William G. Haan had dinner with them last evening before the dance. Congressman and Mrs. Fred A. Britten, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. William D. Connor, Col. and Mrs. John A. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horton Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Harriman.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William J. Snow entertained at dinner last evening in compliment to Congressman and Mrs. Julius Kahn. There were twelve guests in the company.

Col. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt were also hosts at dinner before the dance.

Col. and Mrs. Clarence O. Sherrill had as guests Col. and Mrs. James F. Allison, Col. and Mrs. H. T. Hull, Col. and Mrs. L. S. Morey and Col. and Mrs. H. C. Collins.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. J. M. Carson gave a dinner for the Counselor of the Norwegian Legation and Mrs. Daniel Steen. The other guests were Mrs. Edwin St. John Greble, Mrs. Mildred Greble, Mrs. Charles Lee Andrews, Jr., Major Valer, Captain Richard Marshall, Jr., and Captain Farnace.

Col. and Mrs. W. R. Smedberg, Jr., entertained at Rauscher's preceding the army dance, when their guests included Brig. Gen. and Mrs. James H. McRae, Mrs. Augustine McIntyre, Maj. and Mrs. Ralph Jones and Col. Francis Pope.

Maj. and Mrs. Nicholas W. Camphill had Col. and Mrs. Duncan Elliott as their guests at dinner last evening in their apartment at the Somerset. Afterward they went to the concert of Frieda Hempel at Wardman Park Hotel, given by the State Department Club. Later in the evening they attended the army dance at Rauscher's.

Col. and Mrs. Frank C. Jewell entertained at dinner last evening at Rauscher's preceding the army dance. Their guests were the Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. J. Mayhew Wainwright, Read Adair and Mrs. Julian L. Lamer, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Rinehart and Lieut. Col. and Mrs. William T. Merritt.

Immediate members of Col. W. S. Chamberlain's staff, and a party of friends were entertained by Colonel and Mrs. Chamberlain last night at a dinner at the Petit Madison Cafe, at the Chastleton, going later to the army dance at Rauscher's.

Included in the party were Mrs. Henry C. Pillsbury, Mrs. George Van Horn Moseley, Mrs. W. S. Chamberlain, Miss Eleanor Marie Chamberlain, Col. Paul C. Halloran, Miss Halloran, Maj. Henry C. Pillsbury, Maj. James A. Lyon, Van Horn Moseley, and Col. W. S. Chamberlain.

Miss Helen Richardson is at the Lafayette, the guest of her uncle, Dr. J. J. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Yokama, of Tokyo, Japan, are guests at the Burlington Hotel.

The Rev. Sam W. Small, who with his sister, Mrs. Craven, and her daughter-in-law, who have been spending the winter tour in Florida, have returned to their Virginia estate. They entertained at tea and dinner Sunday in compliment to Senator and Mrs. Frank Willis of Ohio.

Miss Anna Farquar, of Olney, chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Montgomery County General Hospital, will entertain at dinner to night in honor of the Owl Players and Washington Concert Company, who will give a benefit performance at Olney later in the evening for the hospital.

Miss Farquar and the officers of her board will be assisted by the most prominent women of the community, all of whom are enthusiastically aiding in the campaign just started to provide funds for the continuance and further equipment of this hospital.

The Washington people participating in the program at Misses Winifred Michaelson, Mildred Pugin, Rebecca Dial, daughter of Senator Dial of South Carolina; Mrs. Marjalyse Ross Manly, Miss Marion Adams, Miss Gene Stanley, Miss Ellen Quilley and Mrs. Mortimer Morehouse. The play, "The Will," was written by Miss Mary Meek Atkeson.

A card party for the benefit of the Hebrew Home for the Aged and the hospital building fund will be given on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Arlington Hotel under the auspices of Mrs. J. Kotz, of 1812 K street.

HERE IS A BULL BULL FIGHTER COULDN'T BULL

Red Meant Nothing in Life of Animal and Chicago Is Disappointed.

By International News Service.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Charlot Molina is the "world's greatest torador." The expression is quoted because the words are the words of Charlot. He admits it.

In order to torador in proper fashion, Charlot must be provided a bull who will fight. Charlot can't be rough with the bull unless the bull will be rough with him.

It was Charlot's intention to give Chicagoans an exhibition of how the national sport of Spain, Mexico and a few other countries is conducted. He planned nothing brutal, but promised something snappy.

A crowd assembled in the stock yards amphitheater and a robust looking, corn fed bull was shoved into the spotlight. Charlot flaunted a flaming scarlet banner before his eyes. A matador pulled his tail. Another tickled its ribs with a pointed pole.

Did the bull charge pugnaciously at Charlot? He did not. He charged the other way. For the remainder of the engagement Charlot and his aides sought vainly to overtaken a bull that always was just going away from a given point as they arrived at it.

When his breath and his patience gave out, Charlot paused and remarked sardoniously: "Caramba! Those Chicago bull, he no fight."

The crowd, being partial to home industry, gave three cheers for the bull and a long "razz" for Charlot and Chicago's first bull fight was history.

PICKPOCKETS PLY TRADE

DURING RUN ON BANK

CHICAGO, March 25.—Pickpockets playing their "trade" in a crowd of 2,000 depositors who stored the Northwestern Trust and Savings Bank yesterday, following circulation of rumors that the bank was insolvent, robbed two aged women of their life savings.

Police officers say one woman lost $4,000 when a man snatched her handbag as she left the bank. One hundred policemen, twenty-five armed with rifles, who were on duty, failed to find the man.

Later Mrs. L. Zukowski reported to bank officials that a pickpocket stole $700 she had just withdrawn. The run was halted after 2,000 depositors had filed past a teller's cage in which $1,200,000 in currency lay piled on the counters. The Federal Reserve Bank and two local banks lent $1,850,000 to the bank during the day and the Continental and Commercial Bank offered $200,000 if it needed.

The clearing house and Federal Reserve Bank issued statements declaring the bank was sound.

OLD SHIRT CONCEALED

SAVINGS OF LIFETIME

NEW YORK, March 25.—A shirt and an envelope are at the bottom of "discovery proceedings" which were brought yesterday against Mrs. Hannah Lee, Mrs. Blanche Eckert in Surrogate Foley's court.

Mrs. Eckert claims she gave the shirt to Mrs. Roe, and Mrs. Roe admits it. But Mrs. Becker says that hidden in the shirt was an envelope, and that the envelope contained practically the entire estate she had inherited from her father, Mrs. Staeher. Mrs. Roe, however, claims she never saw the envelope.

When Staeher died he left his savings, mostly from pensions as a civil war veteran, in a large envelope to his daughter. There were some other personal belongings among them the shirt, which Staeher had never worn. Mrs. Eckert gave the shirt to Mrs. Roe, who lives in the same building, and she declares, Mrs. Roe, a tenant, almost immediately redecored her home at her own expense.

Mrs. Eckert has asked the surrogate to allow her lawyer to question Mrs. Roe under oath.
